466 Enemies Killed in 2-Day Battle; Air Strikes Increase

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Nam war reached new fury today with U.S. and Vietnamese troops attacking Communist regulars in two big operations and with air power turned on full blast.

It was the second heavy day for U.S. warplanes. Air Force spokesmen said they hit a surface-to-air missile site 34 miles west of Hanoi Friday night and encountered fire from three Communist MIGs about 80 miles from the North Vietnamese capital.

American Marines and government airborne troops claimed to have killed 466 North Vietnamese regulars and Viet Cong in a two-day battle six miles northwest of Quang Ngai and the fight was still going on. The Communists were seen trying to get away but they were in danger of being trapped and annihilated by ground and air assaults.

185 Enemy Dead

The 101st Airborne's 1st Brigade operating 12 miles south of Tuy Hoa launched an attack Friday on elements later identified as a reinforced North Vietnamese battalion. They reportedly killed 105 of the enemy and captured 39 weapons including four machine guns.

The U.S. 1st Infantry Division went into the jungles and rubber plantations around Ben Cat, 30 miles north of Saigon today and found a Viet Cong battalion. Patrols sent back the word and a battalion rushed in. The infantry killed 47 Viet Cong, captured 4 and found a base camp. The insurgents finally broke away.

An Army helicopter and an Air Force jet were hit by ground fire while supporting the infantry attack. Both crashed.

The Air Force pilot ejected safely. The mounting action was accompanied by new forces streaming into the American military machine. There are now 215,000 troops committed.

27 Missions

The Air Force flew 27 missions against intense anti-aircraft fire, blasting the Red River delta communications lines and knocking out one missile site.

The Navy sent out 34 missions from the Ranger and Hancock and hit the Khe Na Dong bridge 63 miles southwest of Hanoi, destroying an anti-aircraft site 42 miles southeast of Vinh and assaulting junks, roads and ferry landings.

Three MIG jet fighters came out to meet F105s and each made one pass, an Air Force spokesman said. But Phantoms flying high cover swooped down and the MIGs retreated into mist and cloud cover.

All planes returned safely, the spokesman said. There were no

Campaign of Mrs. Wallace Gets Started

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Lurleen Wallace, aspiring to be the first woman governor of Alabama, launched her political campaign here Friday night.

But husband Gov. George C. Wallace did most of the talking.

Mrs. Wallace, a mother of four, spoke about two minutes in a rally at a National Guard armory, then sat down and listened as her husband, in a 35-minute oration, cited the accomplishments of his administration and outlined what he would do if his wife is elected to the state's highest post.

The governor said that he would be his wife's "No. 1 adviser," and indicated her election could be considered a mandate for him to continue what he called his struggle for a return to local government.

"There is nothing wrong with a woman running for governor of this state. It is up to the people of Alabama. We are not afraid to put it before them. We stand on my record," Wallace said.

State Secretary Prestige Built By New Order

Johnson Directive Returns Power Over Overseas Activities

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a new order from President Johnson, the State Department appears to have recovered the power and prestige in running U.S. foreign policy that it began losing in the closing years of the Dwight D. Eisenhower administration.

The White House announced Friday that Johnson has directed Secretary of State Dean Rusk "to assume responsibility to the full extent permitted by law for the over-all direction, coordination and supervision of interdepartmental activities of the United States government overseas (less exempted military activities)."

Simply put, this means that hereafter State Department officials are to make the initial decisions on foreign policy moves, subject to the President's final decision, except in South Viet Nam.

This assignment of power radically changes the situation that developed early in the administration of President John F. Kennedy, who vested extensive practical authority in his own White House staff.

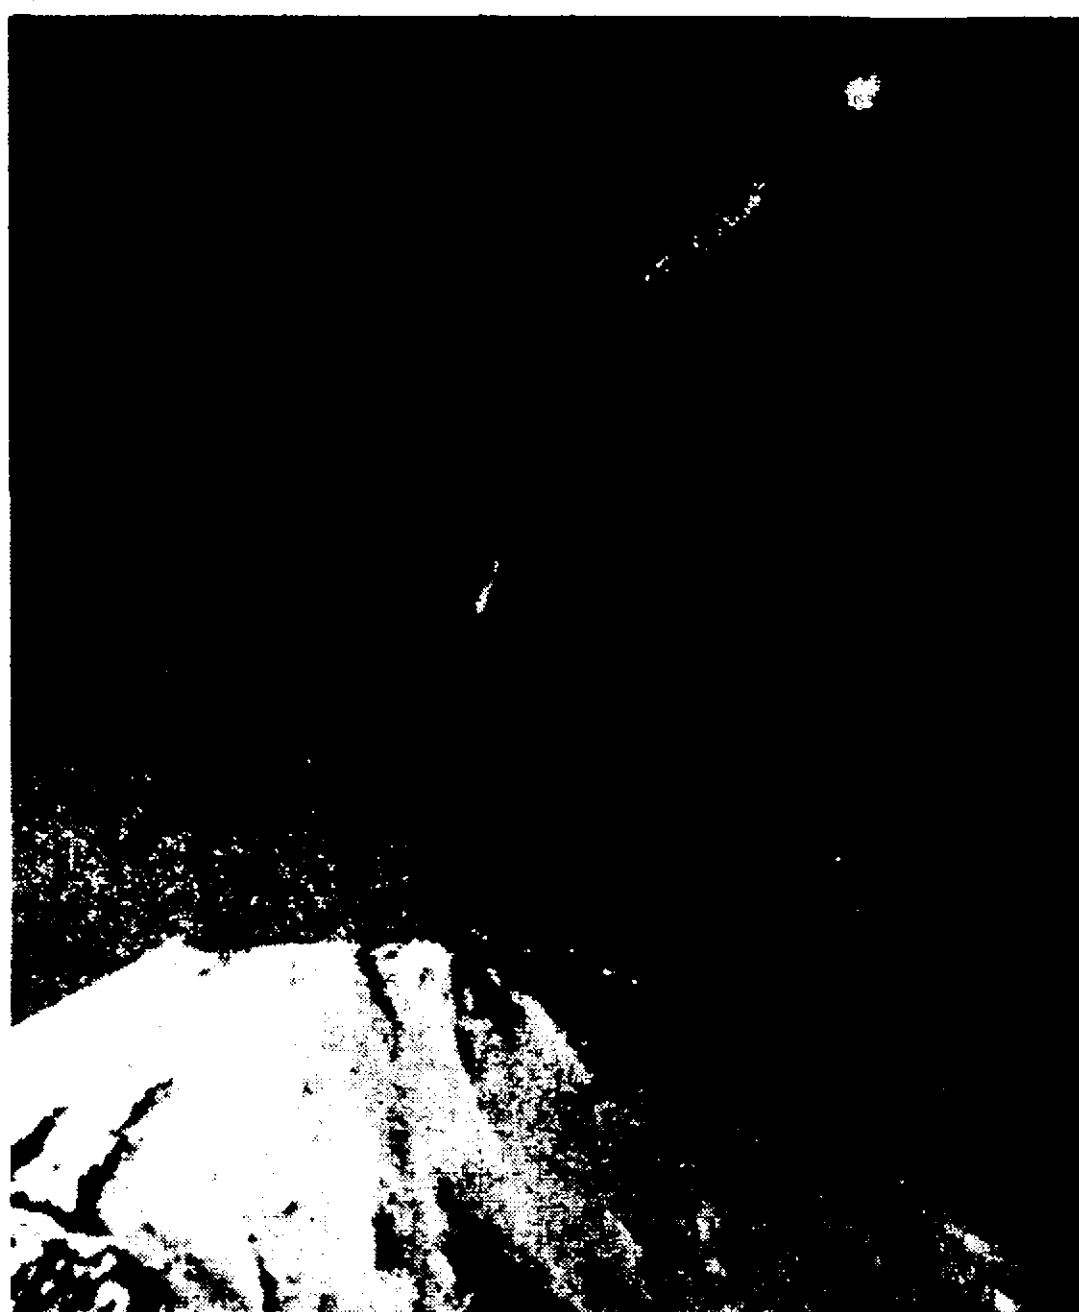

The process had begun earlier, however. Following the death of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles in 1959, President Eisenhower decided to embark on a personal crusade for peace in the world. He also undertook personal direction of critical areas of U.S. foreign policy, leaving Secretary Christian A. Herter to serve as his adviser and administer the State Department.

Johnson began to move away from the centralized Kennedy system early in 1964, his first full year in office. He began to rely much less on McGeorge Bundy, special assistant for international security affairs, and much more on the two Cabinet officers directly involved in foreign operations—Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara. The shift to the new way of doing business developed slowly over a two-year period. Thus the order issued Friday is basically a public acknowledgement of an existing system.

One cornerstone of the system is the close relationship Johnson has with Rusk and McNamara. He praises both broadly. Rusk has seemed somewhat more aggressive in the development of foreign policy issues and decisions under Johnson's leadership than he was under Kennedy.

Blizzard Relaxes Paralyzing Grip on North Central Area

Punishing Storm Buries Towns, Kills Three, Leaves 27 Missing

FARGO, N.D. (AP)—A deadly blend of heavy snow and screaming winds began to relax its paralyzing grip on a vast section of the north central United States today.

The Weather Bureau called it one of the most savage blizzards in recorded history.

With blinding snow and winds clocked at over 100 miles per hour in some areas, it moved with punishing slowness northward from western South Dakota to northeastern Minnesota.

Behind it lay scores of communities so paralyzed they looked like ghost towns.

There were three known dead, all in Minnesota. But at least 27 persons were missing, the majority in North Dakota, where the storm's fury seemed greatest.

Called 'Brutal'

So brutal was the blizzard that tragedy stalked what would ordinarily be the safest, simplest tasks.

Near Woodworth, in central North Dakota, 13-year-old Betty died while on a trip to close a banging chicken coop door 100 feet from her parents' home. Her mother, Mrs. Raymond Dieder, nearly died in a vain, groping search for her daughter in the swirling snow, but made it back to the house on hands and knees.

The mercury neared zero at the height of the storm. Mountainous drifts made such a thing as a level snow reading rare. But where North Dakota gauges worked, they measured depths up to 34 inches at Devils Lake.

The storm shattered almost all activities dependent on outdoor travel. Schools closed. Entire business districts shut down. Travel by any means was impossible in many areas.

Thousands Stranded

Uncounted thousands of travelers were stranded. Lucky ones, like 120 at tiny Sterling Corners, in central North Dakota, had food and shelter. Some others made it to farm houses. An estimated 350 persons were caught after a basketball tournament in the Doland-Redfield area in central South Dakota. Two hundred huddled in a service station complex, 80 in one farm, 80 in another.

For a time, nearly 500 passengers were stalled in three transcontinental Northern Pacific trains in central North Dakota. Early today, 190 of them remained on an eastbound train at Eagle Butte, some 50 miles west of Bismarck. Food and fuel for the train were brought to them.

Another train disgorged 135 passengers to public shelter in nearby New Salem, and still another 170 persons found haven after their train was returned to Jamestown.

Lt. Gov. Charles Tighe declared North Dakota a disaster

Far East Situation Improved, Bundy Says

SAIGON (AP) — William P. Bundy, U.S. assistant secretary of state for Far East affairs, said today the situation in Viet Nam has "obviously shown clear improvement" in the past few months.

The Washington official, who came here Thursday after attending a meeting of U.S. diplomats in the Philippines, asserted things are turning up.

area. Gov. William Guy was reported hurrying home from an Arizona vacation.

With hoped-for moderating weather today, Tighe said National Guard and U.S. Air Force helicopters and ski-equipped planes, along with snowmobiles, would seek missing or stranded persons.

U. S. Recognizes Regime in Ghana

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has recognized the National Liberation Committee regime that overthrew the government of Ghana's President Kwame Nkrumah.

Officials said that K. Y. Boafo, charge d'affaires of the Ghanaian Embassy, was called to the State Department Friday and handed a routine note expressing U.S. hopes for "continuation of friendly and mutually beneficial relations" between the two countries.

Johnson Proposals on Withholding

Pending Legislation Could Have Major Effects on Payroll Checks

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Congress enacts President Johnson's tax package, now awaiting final Senate action, your pay check will probably look different after May 1.

How different? That depends. The change would come about because of new methods of withholding for income tax, and in tax matters everybody is a special case. But some general guidelines can be drawn.

In the first place, the overall amount of income tax you will pay would not be changed by the legislation. The only question would be how much of the tax would be taken out of your pay check and whether you would have to add to this at the end of the year to meet your obligation, or whether you would be entitled to a refund.

At present withholding is at a rate of 14 per cent for all, the new bill puts it on a staggered basis starting at 14 per cent.

The object of this part of the legislation is to match withholding with tax owed more closely for more people and cut down on extra payments and refunds. President Johnson asked Con-

British Jet Bursts Into Flames, Plunges Down on Mt. Fuji's Sacred Slopes

GOTEMBA, Japan (AP) — A British passenger jet mysteriously burst into flame and crashed over Mt. Fuji today and smoke over the sacred mountain's slopes, killing all 124 aboard.

Among them were 84 Americans in a single tour group sponsored by the Thermo King Corp., a refrigeration firm of Minneapolis, Minn.

The British Overseas Airways Corp. plane had a crew of 11. It was the second major plane crash in the Tokyo area in less than 24 hours and the third in a month, with a death toll of more than 300.

What caused the crash was not known. There were treacherous winds in the area over the majestic snow-covered extinct volcano. Some aviation experts said the four-engine blue and white Boeing 707 may have been shaken apart. Reports that there had been a collision with a second plane were discounted.

Witnesses told of seeing it billowing white smoke, then black smoke. Others said they saw flames. Several said it seemed to flutter to the earth like a leaf, disintegrating in its fall.

Almost 1,000 Japanese soldiers, police and firemen worked into the night carrying the bodies from the plane down to this town five miles away.

Rescue workers said they had found all the bodies.

As they were taken from the plane they were wrapped in gray military blankets and placed in wooden coffins.

There was no sign of extensive fire or explosion aboard the plane. Rescuers said many of the bodies thrown from the plane were unmarked and unburned.

Japan's Weather Bureau issued several wind warnings just minutes before the plane bound next for Hong Kong on a round-the-world flight.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lubbers of Milwaukee, the parents of five children, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fleming of Green Bay.

Both Lubbers and Fleming were distributors of refrigeration equipment manufactured by the Thermo King Corp. of Minneapolis which had a tour party of 75 aboard the plane. The aircraft was en route from Tokyo to Hong Kong when it burst into flame and smoke and crashed near Mt. Fuji.

Lubbers, 36, had assumed the presidency of the Badger Auto Body Co., and the Badger Trail-

No More White, Light Fluffy Stuff Sunday

Fox Cities — Cloudy without much change in temperature with light snow or snow flurries ending Sunday. Low tonight near 12 degrees. High Sunday near 22 degrees. Light northerly winds increasing to fresh northwesterly tonight and Sunday.

Appleton — Observations at 10 a.m. today. Temperature, high, 44; low, 18. Wind, eight miles per hour out of the north. Barometric pressure, 29.60 and falling. Humidity, 87. Dewpoint, 21. Snow, 2.

Johnson Proposals on Withholding

Mr. and Mrs. B file a joint return on salary income of $12,500 and their deductions run 10 per cent of income. They have two children. Under present law, Mr. B's paycheck is docked $26.37 a week and at the end of the year he still has to find $196 to make up his $1,567 tax bill.

Under the new plan the withholding for Mr. B would go up to $29.72 a week, and at return time he would only owe $22 of his tax.

The Treasury figures that under present law too much tax is withheld from about 37 million persons but that proposed changes — mainly in figuring deduction — would trim some 13 million from this total, largely taxpayers with low incomes.

The Treasury says that insufficient taxes are now withheld from some 14 million persons and that the bill would reduce this by 3.8 million while lowering tax payments at the end of the year for many of the others.

Mr. A is single, earns $5,000 a year and has no special deductible expenses, so he uses the standard 10 per cent deduction. Under the present law the amount withheld from his $36 weekly wage for income tax is about $11.64. This does not include Social Security; no change is contemplated in withholding for it.

By the end of the year, Mr. A, if he has no income outside his wages, will owe $671 income tax. But the total withheld from his wages will be $6 short of that, so he will have to come up with that much more cash for Uncle Sam.

But if the new system goes into effect, Mr. A will have

Make Imprinted Leather Mat For Mother to Use Under Vase

BY CAPPY DICK

If you are looking for a new pastime, try leather embossing. The easy way described here for boys and girls.

Suppose you want to make a leather mat for Mother to place under a flower vase. All you need is a circle of thin leather and an object, such as a cut glass bowl, on which to press it.

Cut the leather to the size and shape you desire. The bowl in the picture has used a circular piece. Next find a molded or cut glass dish that has a deep design in it. A metal plaque having a design in relief will also do.

Soak the leather in water (Figure 1). When it is thoroughly wet, place the smooth side of the leather flat upon the rough leather from the bowl and spread it out to dry without touching it again. When the every bit of leather hard water has evaporated the design will be permanently pressed into the leather. It won't vanish when heavy dishes or vases are placed on it.

Next, press the leather with a clean cloth. This will impress the pattern some more and also will remove excess water. You may also use a spoon to press the leather into the design.

Finally, carefully lift the

Dampen the Leather

Spread the leather from the bowl and spread it out to dry without touching it again. When the every bit of leather hard water has evaporated the design will be permanently pressed into the leather. It won't vanish when heavy dishes or vases are placed on it.

Manawa '5' Downs Mustangs, 58-52

Knaack, Sabrowsky Pace Tourney Win; Frailing Hits 1,000th Point

BONDUEL — Manawa, Central Wisconsin Conference champion and seventh-ranked of the state's small schools, came from behind in the second half to trim conference rival Marion, 58-52, to capture the sub-regional championship here Friday night.

En route to extending their overall slate to 18-1, the Wolves earned the right to play the Coleman-Lena winner for the Lena regional championship at Lena tonight.

Marion made a game battle against the favored Wolves, leading until just prior to intermission when Manawa finally pulled even at 29-all.

Trailing 52-45 late in the closing stanza, the Mustangs rallied to pull within two points at 54-52 with 50 seconds left in the contest.

The Wolves' Ron Schewe upped the advantage with a pair of free throws, before Dennis Knaack iced things with the final bucket of the contest.

Knaack and Al Sabrowsky paced Manawa in scoring with 22 and 21 points, respectively.

Outagamie Patrolman Suspended for Mishap

Law Enforcement Group Orders Hammen Off Duty for 2 Days Next Week Without Pay

Outagamie County's law enforcement committee Friday voted 5-1 to accept a recommendation by Sgt. Lowell Veitch of the county traffic patrol suspending Patrolman Thomas Hammen two days without pay.

The lone dissenting vote came from Supv. John R. Schreiter (Appleton 6). Other committee members at today's meeting included Supvs. Norman Bever, Edward Spierings, Gerhard Ruhsam, George Greisch and Alvin Sasman.

The action was taken in connection with an accident early Feb. 3 in which a squad car driven by Hammen, 24, 915 W. Kimberly Ave., Kimberly, ran off the County Trunk OO overpass onto U.S. 41. The county-owned car was demolished.

Action Delayed Delay in the matter had been actioned several times, but Veitch said today he wanted to "get the matter disposed of."

Veitch was asked two weeks ago to make his recommendation, as to action on the matter. He told the committee that it was his opinion that the accident was caused in part by negligence on the part of Hammen in the operation of his vehicle.

He said the action is in accordance with traffic department rules and the civil service ordinance. The suspension will be effective next week, Veitch said.

Schreiter, in explaining his negative vote, said he advocated Hammen signing a traffic ticket against himself in connection with the accident.

"If he was willing to write himself a ticket I would not have pressed for any further disciplinary action," Schreiter said.

Investigation is continuing into another squad car accident last Sunday night on the Quarry Road in the Town of Center.

Nelson Urges Federal Aid to Halt Pollution

Senator Says Cost To Clean Up Water May Hit $100 Billion

GREEN BAY — A mammoth federal program for pollution "abatement" was advocated by Sen. Gaylord Nelson (D-Wis.) in an address here Thursday morning.

It might cost as $100 billion in the next 10 to 15 years, Nelson told the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Association of Soil and Water Conservation district supervisors.

That he conceded is a lot of money.

It is equal to one and a half years of defense budget appropriations," he observed.

But we must be prepared to spend dearly if we are to save our country from desecration.

Only Real Answer

Federal implementation and supervision is the only real answer in pollution control, the senator asserted. He said there are too many reasons the job cannot be accomplished by individual states and communities.

It is urgent that broad steps be taken to improve the treatment of municipal sewage. Even a $50.50 program won't work. I propose something like $90 to 100 with the federal government paying the 90 percent as is being done on the interstate highway system, Nelson said.

If the country can afford $90 billion on highways he asserted it can afford a like amount on sewage treatment facilities.

Senate Committee Hearings Fullfilled Task, Says Nelson

Declares Viet Cong View of Our Debate No Reason to End It

BY DAVE NOWAK
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Sen. Gaylord Nelson Thursday strongly criticized senators and news commentators who have urged that debate on the Viet Nam war end.

In an address at Lawrence University, Nelson said he is dismayed by the argument that the Viet Cong misundrstands our society and the debate in this country there fore we should halt debate.

Nelson was loudly applauded by several hundred students and faculty members when he said, "I hope the day will never come when free speech in this country is halted. The strength of this nation is its ability to debate important issues not the ability to goestop with anybody."

He said the recent Viet Nam hearings conducted by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee have fulfilled an important task. In talking with people around the country, Nelson commented, "I have found that people were glued to the television sets listening to the hearings on Viet Nam."

Nelson said the American citizens have gotten a better perspective and understanding of the Viet Nam situation than they have had in the past 10 years. The failure, he added, was that the debate was not started two years ago, before the U. S. became so involved in Viet Nam.

He also criticized civilians and military men who advocate a military confrontation with China by bombing the Chinese nuclear plants. Nelson told the audience this would be an invitation for a mass land war in Asia and strengthen the hand of Mao Tse Tung. This is not just a game," he added.

War With China

There is no problem in members of the Viet Cong, he said, who have become part of a South Vietnam government through elite matters. They should be given the seats.

He said President Johnson has now defined the limits of the Viet Nam war.

Declares Viet Cong View of Our Debate No Reason to End It

Viet Nam war, Nelson said the U. S. will not send troops into North Viet Nam. It would be impossible for Red China to ignore such an invasion. If Red China did not respond, the rest of the communist world would regard her as a paper tiger. Nelson added, "There would be a great compulsion to enter the war. The risk to the U. S. is too great."

Bombing Hanoi

Nelson said bombing of Hanoi would serve no useful purpose. It is not an industrial area producing equipment directly affecting the war. He said it would be shameful to bomb Hanoi as we would only be killing women and children.

He said the suggestion to blockade the port of Haiphong also is too risky as the U. S. up the majority of the population would then cause friction with the allies and also the Soviet Union, who could respond by causing the U. S. problems in other parts of the world.

Nelson emphasized that to win a military victory without a social revolution at the same time in South Viet Nam would be a completely useless investment on our part.

Asia Role

He added that the role of the U. S. in Southeast Asia need to be debated at length in the near future.

Nelson said he would be opposed to promising the Viet Cong a role in any South Vietnamese government prior to negotiations. He said the Viet Cong would only set out to destroy that government.

He did say, however, that if the Viet Cong was an adversary of the U. S. at the time negotiations were conducted, they should be represented at the negotiating table.

Given Seats

Nelson also said that if there is no problem in members of the Viet Cong, he said, who have become part of a South Vietnam government through elite matters. They should be given the seats.

Parish Mission Starts Sunday At Shiocton

SHIOCTON — A one week parish mission at St. Denis Church, conducted by Rev. Omer Kelly, OFM, Cap., will begin Sunday.

Rev. Eugene Hotchkiss, priest, said that the mission would center around the preaching of the moral law and show how it can be put into practice. The Capuchin Missionaries will present the major moral issues of our modern day and will present a practical plan to help our people keep the law of God. Father Hotchkiss explained.

Father Omer will preach at all of the Sunday Masses and will conduct a special mission service each evening.

Not For Company

The firm also pointed out that the city had decided to mill an additional road before the sprinkler system installation started and that the well was not drilled for the company.

Because the city offer to supply sprinkler system water came after the system's installation was under way, the firm had to amend the sprinkler contract to eliminate the private underground storage, the pact called for.

This has caused a delay in having the system installed and the delay is costing the firm $1,800 a month on insurance premiums alone, the statement indicates.

The new increased water rates are still not resolved though they were voted at a PSC hearing Feb. 16. The Iron Works has been the city's largest customer.

Company officials said, "We fully expect to pay our fair share of every municipal expense."

Outagamie Board Era Coming to End

Metal Company Won't Move to New London

Portage Site Will be Expanded Instead To Save on Expense

NEW LONDON — A Rosholt manufacturer who considered moving his manufacturing plant here has announced expansion plans for the Portage County site.

Arnold C. Eichin, president of Ace Metal Forming Co. said he had talked with members of pervisors will not seek reelection.

Obtaining a building and financing the move would have been too expensive, Eichin said. We have our home in Rosholt and we've got it fixed up the way we like it now," he said.

Ace Metals produces a line of hand and garden tools and stair spurs and does general government as to a successor stamping and electroplating work. Eichin said the plant would produce a line of aluminum pontoon boats in addition to the regular line.

Local Corporation

The boat line will be produced by Wisconsin Marine Products of Rosholt, Inc., a separate corporation which is a community organization financed by local capital subscribed by the Rosholt State Bank, a Stevens Point bank and residents of the area.

Eichin said the expansion program may increase the present nine workers to about 50.

Fire has ravaged industry in Rosholt the past four years. Ace Metal sustained severe fire losses four years ago and had to start anew.

In recent months fire destroyed the Rosholt Box Co. plant and a potato warehouse. A third fire to the village's economy was the closing of the Rosholt Cheese factory.

Preliminary Plan Drafted

Wittenberg Board Moves to End Combination Elementary Classes

WITTENBERG — A preliminary plan which would eliminate combined grade elementary classes in the school district was prepared this week by the board of education.

To implement the plan, pupils will have to be transported to each of four Galloway Elder on and Wittenberg schools.

Transport Pupils

Under the new plan the Wittenberg School would have grades one through four with the fifth and sixth grades transported to Wittenberg where there would be nine classes, kindergarten through eighth grade. Some of the Wittenberg sixth through fourth grades would however be transported to Wittenberg.

Galloway School would have grades one through four with its fifth and sixth grades transported to Wittenberg while Elderon's first through fourth grades will be filling out the lower elementary grades at Galloway.

The Elderon School will have a kindergarten class in addition to fifth through eighth grades.

Advantages of the plan, the board said, are greater pupil progress and more efficient

Meeting Tuesday to be Last Session With 55 Supervisors, Close of Fulcer Chairmanship

An era in Outagamie County Government Day which means some 110 students from 11 high schools will be at the courthouse to observe functions of county government, including the board.

It will be the last meeting presided over by Alvin W. Fulcer, board chairman since Jan. 1, 1964, and a participant in county politics for 20 years.

It will be the last time the present 55 member board will convene. The number of supervisors will be cut to 47 under the apportionment plan approved following a State Supreme Court ruling. Many supervisors will not seek reelection.

Arnold C. Eichin, president of Ace Metal Forming Co. said he had talked with members of pervisors will not seek reelection.

Obtaining a building and financing the move would have been too expensive, Eichin said. We have our home in Rosholt and we've got it fixed up the way we like it now," he said.

Ace Metals produces a line of hand and garden tools and stair spurs and does general government as to a successor stamping and electroplating work. Eichin said the plant would produce a line of aluminum pontoon boats in addition to the regular line.

Local Corporation

The boat line will be produced by Wisconsin Marine Products of Rosholt, Inc., a separate corporation which is a community organization financed by local capital subscribed by the Rosholt State Bank, a Stevens Point bank and residents of the area.

Eichin said the expansion program may increase the present nine workers to about 50.

Fire has ravaged industry in Rosholt the past four years. Ace Metal sustained severe fire losses four years ago and had to start anew.

In recent months fire destroyed the Rosholt Box Co. plant and a potato warehouse. A third fire to the village's economy was the closing of the Rosholt Cheese factory.

WITTENBERG — The caucus for the Village of Wittenberg will be at 8 p.m. Monday at the village hall, according to the clerk, Kenneth Schlyter.

Nominations will be made for village trustees for the April 5 election. Trustees whose terms expire are Irving Hanson, Melvin Strong and Roy Kersten.

Cemetery Group At Clintonville To Elect Trustees

CLINTONVILLE — Forest H. Schafer, president of Urban Telephone Corp., announced this week that mobile telephone service with dial phones connected by radio with the Clintonville exchange are available.

The new equipment will enable telephone patrons to have regular telephone service in their automobiles providing full local and long distance connections. The basic unit in the service is a cradle phone mounted beneath the center of the car's dashboard and activated by a radio unit which may be mounted in the trunk of the car. A thin short antenna is mounted on the roof of the car.

The central antenna for the system is on a hill southwest of Peella. Tests last weekend showed it provides excellent communications from cars in a large area. Clear signals were picked up as far away as Green Bay.

Dialing is done in the normal manner and each mobile unit has its own directory number.

Three Men Forfeit Game Violation Bond To Waupaca Justice

WAUPACA — Two Winneconne men and one from Green Bay, charged with game violations, forfeited bonds to Municipal Justice George Whalen Friday when they failed to appear in court.

William R. Hillman, 23, and Alan J. Becker, 24, both of route 1, Winneconne, each forfeited bonds of $36.50. They were charged with shooting from a car. The men were arrested Feb. 27 after they were seen on a town road in the Town of Weyauwega shooting into a herd of deer. They told a game warden they were shooting at a crow.

Harry Louis, 48, 1716 Debra St., Green Bay, forfeited a bond of $16.50 for fishing with more than two lines. He was arrested Feb. 26 while fishing on White Lake.

Fire Losses In Waupaca Total $27,474

44 City, 36 Rural Calls Answered by Department in 1965

WAUPACA — Fire losses in the city of Waupaca during 1965 totaled $27,474, according to Fire Chief, Bob Hansen.

A total of 44 fire and rescue calls were answered by the department during the year. The 44 city fires involved 11 homes, three commercial buildings, two factory buildings, 14 grass fires, four out buildings, one office building, one tree and three resuscitator calls.

Along with the city calls, 36 rural calls were answered. They were four fires in the Town of Dayton involving 10 hours, 20 in Farmington, involving 31 hours, four in the Town of Waupaca, five hours, six in the Town of Lind, seven hours, and one in the Town of Lannark, two hours.

The township fires consisted of eight homes, 21 grass fires, two bars, two cars, one business and one resuscitator.

Beside the city fire calls, the fire department worked for 160 hours last spring pumping water from flooded basements and yards.

Chief Hansen said during 1965 the department inspected 638 city buildings for fire hazards. In these inspections 67 violations were uncovered. All have now been corrected, he said.

Mother of Handicapped Girl Seeks End to Questions, Stares

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am the mother of a handicapped child who will soon be 13. I'm writing to you because I know millions of people read your column and I want to reach as many people as possible.

Every time I take my daughter out in her wheel chair, some stranger comes up and asks, "What's wrong with her?" Do they think that just because the girl is in a wheel chair that she is also deaf?

And then there are the ones who stare — people who ought to know better. They gawk as if the child is a freak in a sideshow.

Handicapped children have a hard enough time adjusting to life without being reminded every day that they are different. I keep telling my daughter that the stargers and questioners are rude and that she should not pay any attention to them.

Please, Ann, pass the word. The battles these kids have to fight are big enough. The public can help so much by being considerate and polite — A Mother

Dear Mother: Consider it passed. And now I'd like to add a word of my own. The kindest thing that can be done for any handicapped person, young or old, is to treat him just as you would treat anyone else.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am losing respect for my husband because he can't break loose from his domineering mother. This woman is the classic matriarch. She is a widow who manipulates her sons as if they were puppets. She also runs her sons-in-law.

My husband's sisters and brothers are lily-livered hypocrites. I know they don't like each other yet they all hang together socially. If one tried to leave the other off a party list the matriarch wouldn't stand for it. She demands that her children present a solid front of togetherness which is so phony that it nauseates me.

My husband is as bad as the rest — maybe worse. What can I do to get him to issue a declaration of independence? — Wed To a 36-Year-Old Mama's Boy

Dear Wed: You are not going to change your husband, so forget that. The ideal solution would be to get him to move to another city. If this is not practical for business reasons, take hold of the social reins and fill up the calendar with interesting friends so there will be precious little time left for boring relatives.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My son belongs to a club. A good many weeks ago I told the president of the club that I would like to have an open house New Year's Day for the members. I made it clear that it would be very informal. He said he would pass the word to the 20 members. He seemed certain that all the members would come. I prepared refreshments for that number.

Only two members showed up — the president and another fellow. My son made three. No explanation or apologies were given. We just sat there looking at one another — and at all that food.

These people are not teenagers. They are all in their late 20's and early 30's. I am very hurt about this and wonder if I should call the members and find out what happened. My husband says to forget it. What is your advice? — L.L.

Dear L.L.: You should not have left it up to the president to "pass the word." You should have phoned each member yourself and extended a personal invitation. Forget about trying to find out what happened. Just don't make the same mistake again.

Don't Seek Queen for Success

"Do you use a mirror when you shave?" North asked quietly after the play of today's hand. South nodded. "In other words," North continued in a louder tone, "you need a mirror to find your chin and you think you can find a missing queen without using your head!"

West opened the jack of clubs. East took the ace and returned a club to the king. South drew two rounds of trumps, cashed the king of hearts and tried a finesse with dummy's jack of hearts.

East won with the queen of hearts and returned a heart to dummy's ace. South ruffed a club and led a diamond in the hope that West held the ace, but East defeated the contract with two diamond tricks.

This provoked North's outburst. Don't be afraid to look for the right way to play the hand yourself even if you use a mirror now and then. You can make four spades no matter which opponent has the queen of hearts. See for yourself before you read on.

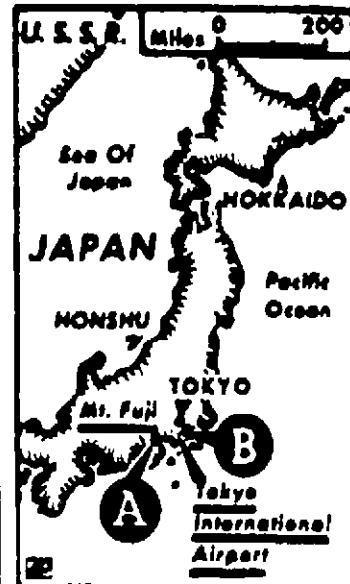

Deep Play
After winning the second trick with the king of clubs South draws trumps with the king and ace. He ruffs dummy's last club and leads a low heart.

If West plays low (as he must in this case), declarer takes a deep finesse with dummy's eight. East must win the trick and must give up a trick no matter what he returns.

If East returns a diamond, dummy's king will win a trick. If East returns a heart, dummy gets a free finesse and South will later cash the kind of hearts to throw a diamond from dummy.

West cannot prevent this even if he is able to put in the nine drinking too little, youngsters or ten of hearts when South first leads the suit. Declarer will then finesse with dummy's jack. East can win with the queen, but then a lead up to body weight — a younger child dummy's ace-eight of hearts will give dummy a free finesse.

Adhesions Believed Cause of Constipation

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: I was never troubled by constipation, not even through five pregnancies, until I had a hysterectomy, but it has been a different story since. Is it usual for major surgery to affect a person this way? — Mrs. M.H.

Dr. Molner

No Major surgery, not even abdominal surgery, ordinarily does not alter bowel action long afterwards. However, there may be some difficulty immediately (2 or 3 days) after an operation.

But since you are having trouble, obviously something has changed. A possibility, probably the strongest one, is that some adhesions formed. This is something which may or may not happen after any operation.

If adhesions occur in some particular location, they could cause a narrowing or a kinking of the bowel. A barium enema X-ray would help determine whether this has occurred and needs correcting.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it possible in the last couple of months of pregnancy to have such increased pressure from the baby that there's shortness of breath and a feeling of wheezing? I haven't gained much weight but am small to start with and short-waisted. I also have a lot of heartburn — Mrs. B.D.B.

Shortness of breath and heartburn are quite common in late pregnancy. Both are the result of the enlarged uterus pressing upward against the diaphragm.

You, unfortunately, have two of the three characteristics that cause this: Small frame, short waist. The third factor is overweight. You've been wise not to gain.

Dear Dr. Molner: How much water do children from 5 to 10 years old need daily? I never see my children drink water. My wife says that drinking pop is the same as drinking water — J.B.H.

Generally speaking, thirst or pretty well regulates the amount of water needed for health. Although older folks sometimes fall into the habit of night when the plane crashed and burned after it snagged on the approach lights at Tokyo's International Airport and hit a concrete retaining wall.

From age 5 to 10 children need about an ounce to an ounce and a half of water per pound of body weight — a younger child needs more per pound.

The crash of a Japanese Boeing 727 jet into Tokyo Bay a month ago was the world's worst single air disaster. It claimed 133 lives. A helicopter searching for some of the bodies that are still missing crashed today, killing two.

Hotel officials in Hong Kong said they were holding 80 reservations for members of the Thermo King Orient tour.

The big jetliner arrived in Japan from San Francisco Friday but was diverted some 600 miles south of Tokyo because of heavy fog. The plane and passengers spent the night at the U.S. Itazuke military base and then flew into Tokyo today under cloudless skies.

BOAC officials said 106 of the 119 passengers boarded the flight in Tokyo while the others came from San Francisco. Ninety-six were bound for Hong Kong, eight for Rangoon, Burma, one for Karachi, Pakistan and one for London, BOAC said.

For more than two hours BOAC officials in Tokyo refused to confirm that one of their planes had crashed but finally announced the crash of Flight 911 at a news conference. They said an investigation team was en route to the scene.

One Phantom F4B was shot down today near Can Tho in the delta. The crew ejected and was picked up unhurt.

B52 Raids
B52 bombers were employed again today assaulting a Viet Cong troop concentration and an enemy headquarters. About the same time, three squadrons of jet fighter-bombers caught Viet Cong in the open about 100 miles northeast of Saigon and mowed down 44 of them.

Another U.S. pilot reported a Thunderchief also flying on counteracting MIG 17 jets after an attack on the Lang Bun railroad bridge about 120 miles northwest of Hanoi.

The pilot said his flight was returning from the attack when two MIG jets were spotted above and behind them. Although low on fuel, the American pilots began a turn and the MIGs fled toward Hanoi. Neither side fired a shot in the second encounter and the planes were never closer than 5 to 10 miles of the other.

In ground fighting, thousands of U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops engaged elements of a North Vietnamese army regiment today in the second straight day of heavy fighting six miles northwest of the central lowlands provincial capital of Quang Ngai.

Hundreds of Dead
With more than 300 of the enemy counted dead, the Marines and Vietnamese troops began tightening a wedge on the remnants.

The U.S. Marines reported killing 152 North Vietnamese and the South Vietnamese troops said they killed 172.

Marines estimated they killed another 150 while government troops claimed 200 more by heavy air attacks and artillery bombardments.

Allied forces reported light casualties.

ELECT BUCKLEY YOUR MAYOR

What Is George Buckley's Platform?

HERE IT IS . . .

- Progress with the general welfare of all residents in mind — geared to a sensible spending rate and with a deaf ear to selfish interest groups.
- Aggressive administrative control and direction of City Departments in place of personal politics.
- Firm leadership in council matters in place of cliques and lobbying.
- Deliberate and continued efforts to combat waste, duplication and inefficiency.
- Establishment of Citizen's Forums to explore problems and keep the public informed.
- Revening of budget controls and tightening of fiscal procedures.
- Monthly meetings with all Dept. heads to review and iron out problems.
- Enforcement of recently adopted street improvement procedure whereby the Engineering Dept. will schedule such matters, thereby eliminating politics from this vital area.
- Encourage and form a tighter relationship between neighboring counties, cities, villages and townships for planned, orderly, and most important — cooperative endeavors.
- Relentless efforts to hold present and attract new business and industry to our city.
- Continued and improved cooperation with civic organizations.
- Sincere attempts to hold taxes down through hard and determined control of city expenditures.
- Selection of the best qualified people to serve on all boards, commissions and advisory committees — instead of politically inspired appointments.
- Protection of and adherence to the citizens right to express themselves on major issues but with the best and completely unbiased facts made available at all times — both pro and con.
- Strong programs to develop the cultural assets of the city.
- Better cooperation with our utilities so that they may improve their services to the people.
- Tighter controls and procedure involving municipal building.
- Immediate efforts to develop and expand our Industrial Park.
- Immediate review of forthcoming Park & Recreation survey to employ an orderly program of providing and improving these public facilities.
- Objective and sensible pursuit of all matters with no favoritism or political hesitancy.
- A constant, hour by hour awareness that the Mayor is the Administrative head of a multi-million dollar corporation and that his judgment, actions and motives must be with the City's best interests in mind.
- Every single day should be spent hard at work and wherever the Mayor's presence is not absolutely essential, another member of the city government could be appointed to represent him at ceremonial affairs.
- Better, more efficient planning on street repairs so that several streets in the same area are not torn up at the same time.
- Exercise common sense in municipal spending without sacrificing educational, public safety, public health or municipal growth needs.
- Strive for the progress that our growing community is entitled to but at the same time being cautious not to advance so rapidly as to produce a program so vast that nobody would be able to afford the taxes that must necessarily accompany such an accelerated advance.

HINTS FROM Heloise

From Heloise's Kitchen:

Dear Folks:

Here's a new one I came across that hit me like another ton of bricks (Some day, that's going to hurt my head, eh?)

You know that a lot of us buy vegetable oil (that's the stuff they fry in and put on our salads, etc.) in big bottles because it's usually less expensive that way.

Next time you are in a slightly, and evenly, grease the quandary as to whether to buy one large bottle or two small ones — compare the ounces on the side of that bottle — and see if it's not cheaper to buy the two small ones. Sometimes it is.

I am told by manufacturers that the large, heavy bottles cost more to produce, and sometimes that's the reason. So, learn to compare prices against ounces before making purchases.

Anyway, I have learned that you can pour your vegetable oil into one of those lovely, plastic, flip-top-type detergent bottles if you wash it thoroughly and rinse it in vinegar (to counteract any detergent you might not have rinsed away), then with water again.

Another thing about this great plastic bottle is that instead of getting globs of oil on anything, vegetable oil comes out in a nice, thin stream. This is especially good when squirting oil on a lettuce salad, or when you want to bottom of a skillet.

Also, detergent bottles are so easy to pick up — they are usually shaped to fit our hands; and if one is dropped, it won't break. Land o' goshin, have you ever dropped a quart of oil? What a mess to clean up.

And, guess what else? You don't have to waste time unscrewing and screwing that oil top on every time you use the oil. This alone will save seconds each time, eh?

And, may I again remind you that any time you can save 10 seconds a day doing something an easier way, please do so.

Pick up your pencil and multiply that 10 seconds by the number of days in each week and see how much time you've saved.

Over the years, you can take a vacation with those piled up seconds. And, look at the energy you will have saved, too.

Any time we can save 10 seconds, let's do it, gals.

It's the best portable workbench ever. It can be set up and used in the basement or garage, to mix paint, patching plaster, etc.

McNamara on China

When Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara appeared before the Senate Armed Services Committee and the Senate Subcommittee on Defense Appropriations, he warned of China's long range plans to control the world. His statements were based upon a release by China's Minister of Defense Lin Piao issued last summer and there is certainly no question but that the Chinese leaders have visionary ideas of world conquest which have led a number of ruthless dreamers astray.

China has attempted to divide the world into "rural" areas which include the underdeveloped nations of the world, particularly in Asia, Africa and Latin America, and the "urban" areas such as Western Europe, the United States—and the Soviet Union—which would be taken over little by little once the rural areas were subverted. In addition the Chinese Communists have issued a call to all non-white peoples to prepare for a long drawn out war against the Caucasian race.

Certainly the plans are frightening and formidable. Secretary McNamara warned of them at a meeting of foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization last fall when he suggested that other members should be more concerned than they apparently were with the struggle in Viet Nam. If the Chinese plans affect us, they obviously also affect Western Europe whether or not we get any help in Viet Nam.

But it is also apparent that England and France, at any rate, do not believe the Chinese plans or that China has much ability to carry them out. The big problem for the United States is to try to determine whether this is the old ostrich technique which England, France—and the United States—followed while Hitler rose to power or whether the Chinese are merely blowing in the wind. Secondly, upon that determination must be a decision on how best to face it or to prevent it.

Certainly China has immense manpower and its present government considers it expendable in the struggle for Chinese and Communist power and influence. It also has nuclear possibilities and may be further ahead in the ability to deliver an atomic bomb than we realize. In general we have failed to recognize how advanced in this field other nations are. We are still apparently being caught by surprise by spectacular advances which the Russians demonstrate from time to time in the space race. In a land war with China in Asia, then, we would need help even if we decided to use our nuclear power. Most military scholars consider the massive destructive power of a nuclear bomb relatively ineffective against guerilla troops. Its major purpose is that of terror against civilian populations—either actual such as happened at Hiroshima and Nagasaki or in the abstract such as the deterrent power of the Strategic Air Force in Europe and the purpose of missile equipped submarines.

There can be little argument but that Communist China, as it is now structured, must be contained. Presumably it does have the military strength to overrun, one by one, the small countries of Asia if they are not helped or do not help one another. The Southeast Asia Treaty Organization was originally conceived, like NATO, to prevent this but never had the strength of purpose or cooperation of NATO.

But our policy, particularly in Viet Nam, has played into the Chinese hands. Without committing a single soldier, they are at war with the United States in the jungles of Viet Nam. There is certainly strong reason to doubt that Ho Chi Minh, Communist though he is, would be as much under the control of Peking as he may be now, had we permitted the Vietnamese to battle out their own problems among the Communists, Buddhists, Catholics, war lords and bandits originally struggling for dominance when France withdrew.

But since this is hindsight, the problem now is what to do. Is China another Nazi Germany that ought to be halted—or better still conquered early—or is it more like Castro's Cuba, full of bombast, threats and hot air signifying very little indeed? The answer may determine the world situation for the next few decades—or perhaps forever when we consider what another world war would do.

two men—Amin Hafez and Salah Jadid—and whether Syria should look toward Russia or Red China for example and how and when to try to push other Middle East nations along its path and with its leadership of course.

Hafez lost this round, at least for the time being, but apparently survived, a rather unusual occurrence in such battles. But his one-time second in command has been named chief of state and a former premier, once a Hafez friend, has been renamed premier.

Reports which have seeped over the closed border indicate that about 600 people died in this latest "revolution." One of Malthus' suggestions for holding down exploding populations has certainly been followed in the Near East, Africa and Asia in recent weeks.

financing an accelerated program of major highway improvements, as against financing such a more rapid rate of construction by levying new taxes upon the highway user. There is now a fair chance, according to all accounts, that the present level of state taxation is somewhat higher than is required to meet the demands of the current state budget. That was not anticipated when the legislature seven or eight months ago struggled to reach a tax compromise. But collections have been richer than anticipated, reflecting the continued high rate of employment, production and earnings.

It is expected that when the legislature reconvenes in May there will be at hand a statement of the actual surplus that can be counted upon, if any.

It strikes us that this possibility is a frail reed upon which some of the highway fund expansionists would lean. They may make a plausible case for the claim that the sales taxes on goods and services related to highway travel are truly "highway taxes" within the historic meaning of the phrase in Wisconsin practice. But the state surplus is not likely to be large, on the one hand, and it is not likely to be permanent. Diverting such a surplus to the highway fund now would merely make more certain the levying of yet higher sales taxes to finance an inevitably larger state general budget a year hence.

Looking Backward

'Off With Heads,' Says Crescent

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for March 3, 1866.

That class of renegades and political sharpers, who care only for their own personal ambition and preferment, and make the Negro and his elevation only a means by which to advance their purposes, we trust the President will make these feel his authority and "off with their heads" of all opposers of his policy.

We verily believe that if it were generally understood that he (the President) would oust all opposing office-holders, it would change the times and the tunes of many who now denounce his policy, although many do it in a whisper, slyly, as if they feared it might be heard to their disadvantage.

"Support the Government—the President is the Government!" was music we had served up to us a few months ago. Little did these radicals think that theory might be the rope on which to hang themselves hereafter.

We trust that the President will maintain his position in favor of the Union and in its best interests, as against these destructives, who seem determined to rule or ruin.

compared to how long it took to build the first half.

The schedule calls for completion of the 11,000-mile network of wide and wonderful highways by 1972, or six years from now.

The first half was completed in a little less than 10 years after Congress approved the huge nationwide project in 1956.

Last month the Commerce Department's Bureau of Public Roads announced passing of the halfway milestone. It reported that 21,185 miles were open to traffic. A total of 11,999 miles had been finished and opened in the last three months of 1965.

IT'S MUCH SAFER

The network will carry more than 20 per cent of the nation's traffic, it has been estimated, and will be much safer than ordinary highways. It is being financed mainly through federal taxes on motor fuels, vehicles and accessories.

A principal reason why greater speed in construction is now possible is that state highway departments no longer have to gear up to road projects of such magnitude. They did that in the beginning years.

Texas leads all the states in the total mileage so far open to traffic, with 1,606. However, its percentage of completed interstate highways is near the national average, since it had been designated for the most miles, 3,023.

The Commerce Department reported that over-all construction costs during 1965 continued at a "modest upward trend" which began in mid-1960. Costs rose 3.6 per cent on the average last year compared to 1964.

In addition to interstate mileage already open to traffic, the department said 5,580 miles were under construction at the end of 1965 and engineering or right-of-way work was underway on 11,356 miles.

This left only 2,879 miles, or 7 per cent of the total, on which work had not advanced beyond preliminary stages, the department said.

U. S. PAYS 90 PCT.

The federal government normally pays 90 per cent of the cost of interstate highways and the states 10 per cent—all of the money, of course, coming from taxpayers.

States have not been reimbursed for the 2,318 miles of toll road incorporated into the interstate system and open to traffic. Congress plans to wrestle with this problem after the system's completion in 1972.

The department gave this money breakdown for the value of work completed and underway on the Interstate System from its start in 1956 through 1965:

—$24.7 billion committed to the program.

—$15.16 billion spent on completed stretches including $13.08 billion for construction and $2.08 billion for engineering and right-of-way purchases.

—$9.57 billion for work underway or authorized, including $5.55 billion for construction and $4.02 billion for engineering and right-of-way purchases.

Wisconsin Report

Stassen Candidacy for Governor Recalls His Campaigns in State

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The reporter who has worked on the sidelines of American politics for a couple of decades or more has a store of memories of politicians and election campaigns. If sometimes he has a private worry about becoming jaded, the infinite variety of the political personalities on the stage can provide him reassurance, as the inquestionable conviction of Harold Stassen, for example, that high office remains within his grasp.

Wyngaard

In Wisconsin there are a couple of dozens of prominent Republicans, most of them now aging, who were participants in the exciting early career of a young man who had been a brilliant governor of Minnesota at a tender age and whose promise appeared to justify their support of his bold if unseasonable aspiration for the presidency.

As early as 1944 Stassen was stumping Wisconsin in a presidential primary election. In 1948 he made a fairly serious bid and won a few delegates. Again in 1952 he asked for Wisconsin support. Twelve years later, in 1964, he was on the stump again. In the intervening years he had lost most of his following, however it was measured. One of this reporter's most lasting memories was of Stassen's humiliating experience at the Republican national convention of 1956.

UNFEELING

Stassen had gone to San Francisco a declared enemy of Vice President Nixon, and was resolved to dump him from the national ticket. But when his scheme collapsed utterly, he was one of the first on the platform to endorse Nixon's reelection. He was perhaps the only man in the big hall who had no awareness of the ludicrous appearance he was making.

Now the man who was most recently beaten as a candidate for mayor of Philadelphia has announced, to nobody's surprise but almost surely to the disappointment of many one-time admirers and lost friends, that he will run for the governorship of Pennsylvania in the fall.

There is exemplified here one of the curious and often embarrassing aspects of politics and government—the unyielding determination of some men to remain in the political limelight in spite of evidence of their unacceptability that would be persuasive to others of greater sensitivity. The phenomenon is not isolated. Harold Stassen is the topic of so many discussions about it because he happens to be one of the most prominent and most indefatigable of the type. Everywhere in Wisconsin those who are attentive to political affairs can name other examples in perennial candidates for mayor, or sheriff, or even governor and U.S. Senator and congressman, and the courts.

RIDICULE

Harold Stassen, once one of the bright young men of national politics, has become the butt of tired jokes and parlor ridicule among the political sophisticates.

The idealistic, energetic young man of a quarter of a century ago who attracted some of the best and most useful Wisconsin politicians of his time to his cause has forfeited most of the regard in which he was once held by those old friends.

It is a sad story, for those who knew him earlier and respected him.

But it may have another dimension that the regret it inspires among those Wisconsin friends. The faintly disguised ridicule inspired by the hopeless chase for public office may contribute to the disparagement of politics and politicians by a dangerously high proportion of the average voters of the country. It is already difficult to recruit good men of attainment and experience for the responsible public places in a time when government is a steadily more powerful factor in the lives of every person. The popular image of the "politician" is not always a good one. Harold Stassen tilting at windmills is one of the contributing reasons.

Council Urged to Uphold Zoning on Newberry Street

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The Appleton Plan Commission today ignored planning experts and reaffirmed its recommendation to rezone the north side of E. Newberry Street.

This is the opening statement of The Post-Crescent report of action taken by our City Plan Commission on Valentine's Day, 1966. It could not be stated better—the key word is "ignored."

For the second time, this commission supports the requests of three isolated commercial property owners on the north side of East Newberry Street to rezone their specific pieces of property from one-family residential to commercial and light industry, reversing its position of prior years. Such a stand is contrary to the professional advice of our own city planner, regional planner and to the comprehensive long range plan prepared and spelled out by Harland Bartholomew and Associates of St. Louis. Our elected city officials, in public meetings and through news media, have tried to communicate the details of this plan to us. It has been received approvingly by most of us—the elected officials themselves, the residents, the Chamber of Commerce and community-minded organizations.

We, the taxpaying property owners, through our elected officials, are paying these carefully selected experts to give us impartial advice which will result in an orderly development of our city. But, is this a plan, or just a dream? If it is a plan, based upon studied urban planning experience and foresight, why do our government leaders disregard the counsel of these specialists in the absence of any physical changes? Any departure from a well-laid acceptable blueprint must be supported by a reason—a real reason—which has not been apparent in this case. The physical appearance of the north side of East Newberry Street, between the railroad crossing and east to Kimberly City Limits, is the same today as it was ten or more years ago—before it was annexed by the City of Appleton—with this exception: the area adjoining the north side of East Newberry Street continues to grow into a healthy one-family residential community as intended by state annexation laws.

Valentine's day, 1966, was a sorrowful day for 106 resident property owners living in the area adjacent to the north side of East Newberry Street. This can happen to you—elsewhere in this city. If you believe in a plan for the future of your city, call your alderman now. On March 2, when the City Plan Commission's recommendations will be heard, your voice may save other Appleton residents from financial embarrassment and the imposition of unplanned industrial zoning.

Success Too Late for Folk Artist Guthrie

Time Running Out for Balladier at 53;
Created Popular 'This Land Is Your Land'

By JEAN HELLER
NEW YORK (AP) — Woody Guthrie is an Oklahoma-born folk singer who tramped out of a dust bowl existence in search of a better life. He never really did find it, and now his time is running out.

He tried to "make it" in California in the early 1930s. He tried again in New York. He wrote at least a thousand songs along the way. Some people listened. Most didn't.

End for Him
Today he has found a great and is the subject of a strong revival in the United States. But for Woody Guthrie, 53, it is the end rather than the beginning.

For the past 15 years he has been slowly, helplessly, dying of an hereditary disease called Huntington's Chorea, an affliction that progressively destroys coordination and runs its fatal course in about 15 years.

Coordination is the one thing a man like Guthrie can't afford to lose.

It was coordination of mind and guitar-strumming hands that produced one of his best-known songs:

Typical Philosophy
"This land is your land. This land is my land. From California to the New York island, talk. His songs have been re-corded by Bing Crosby, Harry Belafonte, Frank Sinatra and was made for you and me."

That verse in some of his songs there are as many as 100 and records are being published verses—is typical of the Guthrie philosophy.

"I hate a song that makes you think that you're not any good," he said once. "I hate a song that makes you think that you are just born to lose. No good to no-body. No good for nothing."

"I am out to fight those kinds of songs to my very last breath of air and my last drop of blood. I am out to sing the songs that make you take pride in yourself and in your work."

Guthrie felt that way from the very beginning of his career when he was the uplifting voice of the downtrodden of the great depression. He told people through song that things would be better in California.

He sang on a Los Angeles radio station for a dollar a day. He met other folk singers and saw other places, making several restless journeys back and forth across the American continent. He was married and divorced at least twice.

His love for children—his and others—manifests itself in a flood of children's songs that was interrupted only briefly by the crushing death of his own daughter, Kathy Ann.

Now In Hospital

Guthrie spends all his time now in the Brooklyn State Hospital and is no longer able to talk. His songs have been re-corded by Bing Crosby, Harry Belafonte, Frank Sinatra and was made for you and me."

Peter, Paul and Mary.

His letters, poems, writings his work, because he can no longer do that himself.

and re-released. Balladeer Pete Seeger has predicted great fame for Guthrie's music.

Long-time companion Cisco Houston calls Guthrie "the greatest folk poet we've had."

Seeger says, "Woody shocked many people. But he knew what he wanted to do and he did it."

A Guthrie children's trust fund has been formed to provide for the singer's two surviving children, Joany, 16, and Nora, 15.

The fund publishes a newsletter to keep those who care up to date on Guthrie's condition and his work, because he can no longer do that himself.

Folk Singer Woody Guthrie, now the subject of an eager following in both England and the United States, is slowly dying of a disease called Huntington's Chorea. Guthrie, 53, is a patient at the Brooklyn State Hospital and is unable to talk. The poet-song writer started his career in the Oklahoma Dust Bowl of the depression. (AP Wirephoto)

Vikes' Wilson Garners Diving Crown in Meet

Lawrence Swimmer Concludes Career in Conference Test

Larry Wilson, of Lawrence University, capped a brilliant varsity swimming career by winning the Midwest Conference diving championship at the Alexander Gymnasium pool Friday night before a capacity crowd.

Finals in the swimming competition were completed this afternoon.

Wilson kept his perfect home pool record intact as he won the crown. In three years of varsity diving competition Wilson was never defeated by an opponent in the Lawrence pool.

Wilson finished his performance Friday night with a beautiful final effort that netted him 35 points. He finished with a total of 176.25 points and runnerup was Bill Leigh, of Coe College, with 165.60 points.

In the swimming preliminaries Friday, two new pool and conference records were established. Sophomore Pete House, of Lawrence, broke the 100-yard freestyle barrier when he was clocked in 49.6 seconds.

Craig Adelman, of Grinnell College, set a new mark in the 200-yard butterfly with a time of 2:11.9.

NEENAH — Tom Madden, Oshkosh High School reserve forward, drove nearly the length of the court in the fading seconds of a triple-overtime regional basketball tournament game for a tie-breaking lay-up against Appleton Friday night to climax one of the wildest episodes of "March madness" ever.

The 58-56 victory sends Oshkosh (13-6) against Neenah (12-7) in tonight's regional championship game and maintains the Indians' tournament mastery over AHS. The verdict takes its place in Appleton's "Heartbreak History" alongside the 1954 (61-58 in single overtime), 1957 (57-55) and 1963 (39-35) chapters. A Dick Emanuel coached team has never beaten OHS in tourney play.

Madden, who played his first hero's role to the hilt by scoring six of the Indians' last eight points, picked off a deflected AHS shot with about 4 seconds remaining in the 41st minute of excruciating tension and drove the rest of the way. His shot hung on the rim for a fraction of a second before dropping through as the final buzzer sounded.

Lead by 7

Appleton had been in the better position to win the game several times. The Terrors had erased a 9-point second period deficit (22-13) to lead by seven (50-43) in the fourth quarter, and they also took a 4-point lead (56-52) in the second overtime. On both occasions, the undaunted Indians caught up.

The Terrors, who had controlled the ball through the majority of the nine minutes of overtime play, worked for the final shot near the end of the third extra stanza.

With about 10 seconds to go, Steve Winter shot and missed. AHS' Bob Simon grabbed the rebound and tried to shoot, but it was blocked in a melee around the free throw line. Madden was destined to be in the right place at the right time—and once he grabbed the ball, he wasted no time delivering it where it would do the most good.

Madden, with three baskets and nine of 11 free throws, matched his much more celebrated teammate, Greg Seibold, for Indian scoring honors. Seibold, the Fox River Valley Conference scoring king, sank six baskets and three free shots. Bruce Erickson tallied 11 points before fouling out with 3:52 of regulation time left.

AHS' Pat Garvey claimed game scoring honors, with 16 points. Simon and Winter added 11 and 10, respectively.

Sinks 20 Free Shots

The Terrors scored more field goals, 21 to 19, but Oshkosh annexed the victory from the foul line sinking 20 of 30 chances. AHS made barely more than half its free throws—14 for 27.

A combination of tourney pressure and aggressive defensive play limited both teams' field goal efficiency. Oshkosh shot but, .311 (19 of 61) while AHS hit on only 30 per cent of its 70 shots.

Appleton's only first-half leads were 2-0 and 2-1. Bob Kleinschmidt's goal gave OHS a 3-2 lead, and the Indians stretched the advantage to 13-10 after one quarter and 27-23 after two periods. Early in the second quarter, OHS expanded its lead to nine points—the game's longest. But a basket by Dennis Vaubel and six straight points by Garvey pulled the Terrors right back into contention.

The Don Erickson-coached Indians counted the first four points of the third quarter for a 31-23 lead. But AHS solved the newly-instituted Oshkosh zone press to whittle its deficit. Finally, with two seconds left in the third period, George Hoffman

Mark Dahlke had the best game of his high school career as he poured in 32 points. He connected on 11 of 22 floor shots and coined 10 of 13 from the charity stripe.

Also in double figures for the Foxes were Tom Ehlike, with 22; Dave Tiedt with 18 and Paul Mueller, 14.

16-Point Spurt Trips Menasha

NEENAH — A fine third period "liftoff" by the Rockets of Neenah and Menasha's corresponding inability to hit the basket carried the hosts to a 55-43 triumph over their crosstown rivals in the WIAA regional opener Friday night.

The victory boosted the Red and White to a 2-1 edge in the season series and landed it in tonight's 7:30 p.m. championship game against Oshkosh.

Menasha went into the half-time break on even terms at 23-all but before it could break a drought found itself in arrears by 10 points. The Rockets actually built up a string of 16 points since they scored the last six of the second quarter to gain the half-time knot.

Jim Koepeke broke the tie with a free throw and, taking advantage of shoddy Menasha ball handling, Gary Losse and Jim Feters scored after steals for a 28-23 lead.

Take 10-Point Lead

Menasha still couldn't get the lid off the hoop and a free throw by Koepeke and baskets by Losse and Feters upped the score to 33-23.

Finally, with better than five minutes gone in the period, Tom Vanderhyden broke the dry spell with a basket after his team had missed 10 straight throws.

Menasha, which only made two of 15 attempts in the frame, cut the score to six points but Larry Handler, who had an excellent game, put in a layup giving the hosts a 37-29 edge going into what turned out to be a free throw-filled fourth stanza.

Coach Doug Martin's charges canned seven of the first nine points of the last segment and Menasha's hopes of victory faded as the spread went up to 13 points.

The latter managed to slice the margin to seven points with 1:23 and 50 seconds left but most of the last three minutes were spent with Neenah shooting free throws.

Kaukauna Rallies to Tip Raiders; Manitowoc Tops Kimberly, 52-47

BY TERRY GAVIN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

KIMBERLY — For Kaukauna Coach Ken VanderVelden, it was a mighty sweet first, but for the Kimberly High School basketball team, it was an abrupt end to an otherwise successful campaign.

Kaukauna overcame a slow start here Friday night to subdue Two Rivers, 73-61, for the Ghosts' initial WIAA Tournament win under VanderVelden, now in his third season at the helm.

Coach Gene Mason's Paper-makers, rulers of the Mid-Eastern Conference, struggled through a 6-minute 9-second scoring drought only to drop a 52-47 decision to Manitowoc, one of four runners-up in the Fox River Valley Conference.

The result: Kaukauna and Manitowoc are pitted in tonight's Regional championship game here at 7:30. The Kaukauna-Manitowoc winner faces the victor of the Valders regional (Freedom or Mishicot) Tuesday at Kaukauna for a berth in the Green Bay West sectional.

Vanden Heuvel Shines

Quinn Vanden Heuvel, a slender 5-10 junior, triggered the Kaukauna triumph with 24 points, including 10-point spurts in the first and fourth periods. Pat Kavanaugh and Gary Riemer shipped in with 14 and 11 points, respectively.

While Kaukauna was favored to win, the Kimberly-Manitowoc game was generally conceded to be a toss-up, with the slightest edge to the M-E champion. The scoring drought only to drop a loss left Kimberly with a 13-6 record for the season. Two Rivers concluded play with a 3-16 slate.

But Manitowoc's backcourt tandem of Bob Rosinsky and Mike Pollock, who combined for

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Bobby Premontre Coach Gary Herold Koch had a fever and John sang Johnson's praises after the Johnson was just plain hot and 6-foot-6 Messmer center wrecked the Cadets. "He's by far the best I've seen this season," said Herold after watching Johnson hit with tip-ins, layups, hooks and long and short jump shots. "We tried to keep him off the boards and to double him but nothing worked because he goes inside and outside."

Asked whether any tourney team might stop Johnson, Herold answered, "I doubt it."

Johnson, who scored seven field goals in each half, played "to the fullest of his potential" to the fullest of his potential," said Messmer coach Robert Neja.

Uphoff dazzled the evening crowd of 4,896 with his ball-handling and defensive play, and the 5-foot-9 magician was no slouch as a shooter. He contributed 16 points to the Crusaders' run — sheep — run attack, including two big buckets that broke the back of an Angel counterattack in the final five minutes.

Edgewood, ahead 33 - 20 at halftime, saw its lead cut to 35-50 as John George, a 6-foot-5 center, began finding the range from underneath. But Uphoff scored on a jump shot and rebound shot to put the game safely out of reach.

Dick Reynolds scored 21 points for the Crusaders, including 16 points in the second half. Tim Sweeney had 16 points in the first half.

Duane Johnson and Dexter Baker led the losers with 13 points apiece.

The 6-foot-6 Fisher scored seven baskets and added 10 of 14 free throws as the Ramblers got by Don Bosco in a game decided in the final five minutes.

Regis hit at a blistering 59 per cent in the first half and Don Bosco at an almost as hot 53 per cent clip. The half ended with the Ramblers ahead 39-38.

The pace slackened in the final two periods but the game remained close until midway through the last period. Bill Jochman swished the nets with a jump shot that broke a 58-58 tie and the Ramblers were on their way.

In consolation games this afternoon, Don Bosco meets Premontre and St. Catherine faces Lourdes.

The Carls pulled ahead 13-14, with 13-19 left in the first half after the lead had been shared between the two teams and never went behind again.

The Carls then proceeded to build their lead and held their widest margin, 78-63, with one minute to go.

With the win, Carleton is 14-3 in Conference play while the Vikings are now 3-12.

Hot Offensive Displays

Clintonville, Seymour Triumph, Play for Regional Title Tonight

BY ROGER PITT

CLINTONVILLE — Seymour and Clintonville will tangle here at 8 p.m. today to determine the WIAA regional basketball champion.

Friday Clintonville blasted Shawano, 83-68, and Seymour romped over New London, 77-64. Both winners put on fantastic offensive displays in the third period to put the contests out of reach of the losers.

The Clints poured in 11 of 16 field shots in the third period as they tallied 28 points and a commanding 65-48 lead at the three-quarter mark. Coach Carl Bruggink's Truckers sank the first six shots they attempted in the second half to pull away to a 52-42 lead after a 37-37 tie at the intermission.

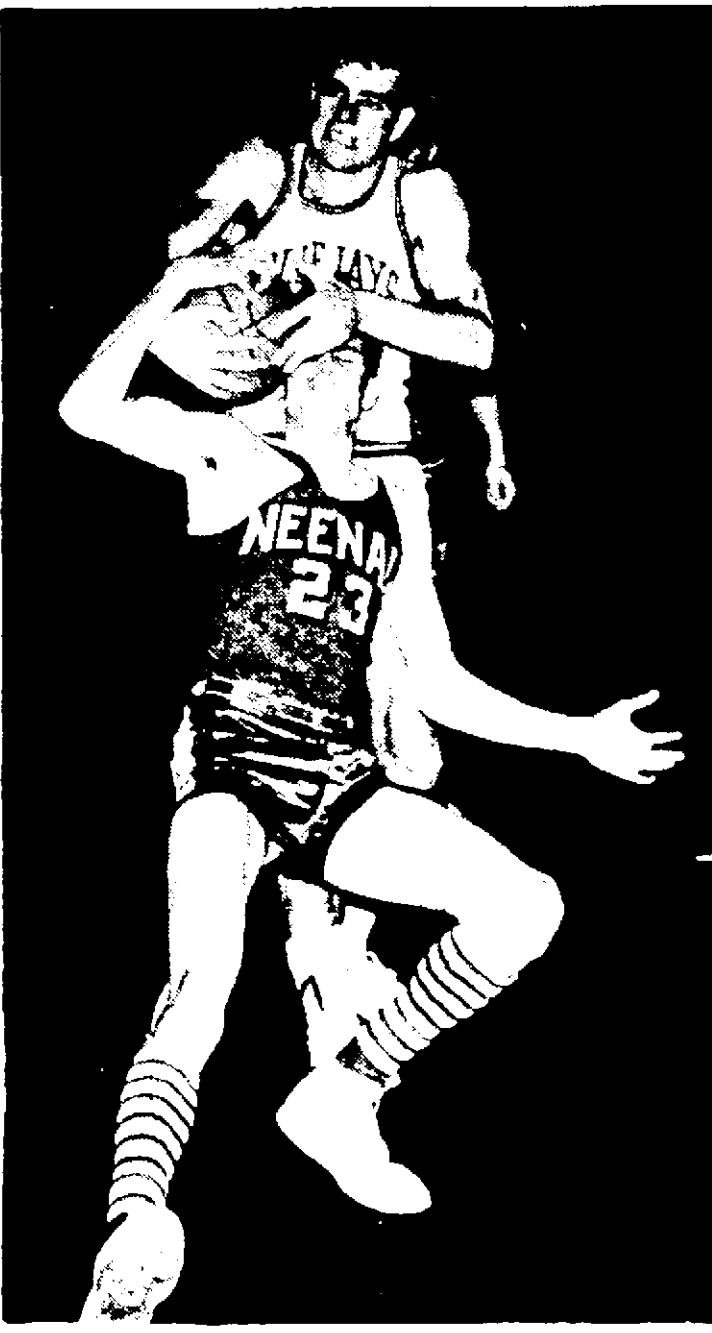

Seymour nearly matched the Clintonville performance by scoring 24 points on 11 of 15 field shots, in the third stanza. Coach Carl Bels' Indians shot a torrid 51 per cent for the game — dropping in 33 of 65 attempts.

Hits 7 for 7

The Vikings shot 41 per cent of seven in the third period to do the most damage to Bill Beyer's Bulldogs. Eisenreich banged in 12 fielders for 24 points before fouling out of the contest with 5:50 remaining to be played.

Clintonville couldn't match the Seymour game shooting percentage but the Truckers 44 per cent, on 31 of 71 shots more than doubled Rudy Ellis' Indians who shot a disastrous 20 per cent on 18 of 63.

Hortonville, Waupaca To Battle for Regional Tourney Title Tonight

Polar Bears Surprise Weyauwega; Comets Roll Past Wautoma

WAUPACA — Hortonville High School surprised Weyauwega, 64-43 Friday night and moved into the finals of the Waupaca regional tournament, meeting the host Comets to night.

After Hortonville had disposed of the Indians, Waupaca rolled to a 75-45 victory over Central Wisconsin Conference foe, Wautoma.

Hortonville and Waupaca will meet for the regional title at 7:30 tonight at the Waupaca gym.

The Polar Bears and Weyauwega played a fairly even first period and Hortonville nursed a 6-point lead at intermission. The winners caught fire in the third period and outscored the Indians 17-10 to take command.

Hortonville was deadly from the free throw line, making 18 of 21 in the game. The Polar Bears missed a pair of tosses early in the first period and then went on a streak and did not miss again until the last seconds of the game.

Bruce Kluge paced Hortonville with 18 points, Chuck Mulroy added 16 and Jerry Williams had 15. Greg Hildebrand topped Weyauwega with 19 markers.

Waupaca had little trouble with Wautoma and the Comets jumped to a 20-10 first period edge and had a comfortable, 40-19, advantage at intermission. Wautoma failed to score in the first 54-minutes of the game and then hit another 5-minute stretch in the second quarter when they failed to notch a point.

Jeff Looker had 20 points for the Comets and Dave Wendt added 17. Tops for Wautoma was John Pica with eight field goals for 16 markers.

hit from the corner and AHS led for the first time since early in the game, 41-40.

Erickson's free throw tied the score, but the Tigers then went on a 9-2 rampage (with Winter getting four of the points) to open a 50-43 lead with 4:56 remaining in the fourth quarter.

AHS grew more cautious as it tried holding its edge, and the lead became more precarious by the minute. Kleinschmidt cut it to five points, and Seibold to four—on Vauhel's fifth and final foul, with 4:21 left. The Indians got within one point, 51-50, on Seibold's goal and went back ahead, 52-51, on two Madden free throws with 1:23 left.

Garvey tied it, 52-52, with 52 seconds remaining by hitting the only free throw AHS made in its final six tries during regulation time. Seibold missed a free throw with 38 seconds left.

The nearly-full house of nearly-hysterical fans kept up a constant din in the first overtime—but no points resulted and each team attempted only two floor shots.

AHS started fast in the second overtime, as Hoffman sank a pair of free throws, with 1:16 remaining, and Garvey turned a Hoffman pass interception into a fast-break goal nine seconds later. OSH outdied its deficit in half on two Madden free throws with 2:01 left. AHS forced a shot which missed, and Scott Schermitzler rebounded a Seibold miss for two points and a 56-55 tie.

It stayed that way for the final 59 seconds of the second overtime and for the first 2:59 of the third overtime.

Irish Trip Valdars

Freedom, Mishicot Vie For Regional Crown

VALDERS — Freedom and Mishicot edged past semi-final foes in the Valdars regional here Friday to advance to tonight's tournament finals. The Irish topped Valdars, 64-61, and Mishicot fared one point better, defeating Reedsville by four, 65-61.

Freedom led the entire second half against the host school, after grabbing a single point edge at halftime, 32-31. Valdars trailed, 50-46, after three quarters.

The Irish employed a ball-control offense in the final stanza, which caused Valdars to foul frequently, trying to gain possession. As a result, Freedom tallied 12 of its 14 fourth quarter points from the foul line, and was able to hang on to its slim margin.

Pat Caney paced Freedom with 24 points, six in each period. Jerry Kieffer banged in 14. Valder's Jack Mayerl topped all shooters with 25.

Leading by six at intermission, 34-28, Mishicot fell victim to a torrid Reedsville third quarter. The Panthers, sparked by Ron Nohr's 12 markers, scored 25 points and took a 2-point lead heading into the final eight minutes.

Reedsville upped its edge to four points before Mishicot rallied to regain the lead and hold it at the final horn.

The winners kept up the momentum and, with two minutes to go, had built a 3-point lead, mainly by means of free shots, which contributed seven points.

34 points, turned the tide in favor of the Ships after trailing 23-20 at intermission. Rosinsky, hitting on eight 25-30-foot set shots, tallied 18 points, with eight markers coming in the decisive third period.

Kimberly's Gary Gossens dropped in a gift shot with 1:17 to play in the first half, giving the Papermakers a 23-18 lead. That was Kimberly's last point, however, until Gossens broke the ice, with a big assist from senior John Reider, on a short shot with 3:08 left to play in the third frame.

While the Ships' zone defense rendered KHS scoreless for the 6:09 playing time span, the Manitowoc offense sputtered to a precarious 25-23 lead. Gossens basket tied the court at 25 and Reider, on a jumper from the free throw line, gave Kimberly its last lead (27-26) with 2:41 left in the third quarter.

Pollock produced a 27-all tie with a free throw and Rosinsky split the cords on a 25-footer with 1:45 left in the frame for a 29-27 pad. Rosinsky, a 5-7 guard, again hit on a set shot to break a 29-29 tally and Pollock meshed a jump shot from 20 feet for a 33-29 lead. Bob Van Gompel sliced the deficit to three points, before Rosinsky's set shot at the buzzer found the range, and quite possibly, provided the momentum needed by the Ships.

Reider Double-Teamed Trailing, 35-30, with eight minutes to play, Reider, who was double-teamed by Rosinsky and Pollock, much of the night, moved into the pivot and promptly hauled in a rebound, firing up a perfect hook shot to cut the margin to 35-32 with 7:26 left in the game.

Manitowoc then opened 4-6 point leads and maintained the spread until a driving jumper by Van Gompel made the score 48-45 with 31 seconds to game's end. Free throws by Rosinsky and a sleeper goal by Ed Seidl sealed Kimberly's fate, before KHS' Ken Fries dumped in a rebound basket at the final buzzer.

Clintonville has dropped just one of 10 contests played on its home court and will be a slight favorite against Seymour to night to gain the sub-sectional berth opposite the winner of the Green Bay Southwest-West De Pere contest.

Green Bay West Tips Preble, 39-27; Madison East Wins

Defending State Champ Monroe Hurdles First Tourney Obstacle

By JAMES R. POLK Associated Press Writer

The new elite, with Madison East and Green Bay West in vanguard, survived opening tests in the 51st Wisconsin high school basketball tournament Friday night while the old guard faltered and often fell.

Cumberland, third in the 1965 tourney, was the chief casualty of a night which left only three of the eight state finalists of a year ago still alive among 128 teams heading into regional championship games at 64 sites tonight.

Defending champion Monroe hurdled its first obstacle toward a repeat title that has been achieved by only two other teams in the last quarter-century, but Appleton, Brookfield Central and Stevens Point joined Cumberland as finalists that faded early.

Oshkosh subdued Appleton 58-56 in a three-overtime battle in the Neenah regional that was decided by a last-second basket by Tom Madden.

Madison East, ranked No. 1 in the state, and Green Bay No. 2 in the final poll, stood at the head of the five unbeaten teams left in the tournament after Eagle River succumbed to Park Falls 65-62 in the Phillips sub-regional.

East Wins, 75-70 East (19-0), the favorite to take the state crown in a tournament that has been won three of the last four years by an undefeated quintet, opened a 43-30 halftime lead against Janesville (8-11) and never surrendered command afterwards in a 75-70 opening victory in the Madison regional.

Jim Mraz, with 21 points, topped four players in double figures for the Purgolders, one of the three surviving state finalists of last year. Madison East collides tonight with five-time state champion Beloit (10-9), the most frequent collector ever of title trophies.

No. 2 Green Bay West (19-0) coined 18 of 51 for a 35.3 percentage, while Manly hit on 22 of 56 for 39.3 per cent.

Reider Leads Kimberly Reider hit on five of 11 field goal tries in leading the Kimblys scoring with 15 points. Senior guard Bob Van Gompel chipped in with 11, including 5-of-10 from the floor, while junior Ken Fries meshed 5-of-12 for 10 points. Van Cuyk, who entered the game with a 15.7 per game scoring average, managed just four points.

The battle of the boards in the Kimberly-Manitowoc was about even, thanks to yeoman work by Kimberly's Gary Gossens. The Ships' burly front line—Steve Check, Ed Seidl and Pete Wilke—controlled the first half rebounds, but KHS came back in the second half to battle to a standoff on the boards.

The play is a musical pantomime said to have "less sin than smirch in the lines."

It uses an 11-member cast to depict the seven ages of man in a circus setting after opening night Time magazine called it "an Everyman coloring book for quasi-grownpups."

Twin Cities Bandman Left Many Musicians Behind

NEENAH - MENASHA — A classmate of his at Lawrence College and friend through the teaching years at Neenah High School, George Christoph, reveals the manner of the man.

"He was a good instructor and friend," Les knew the exact moment when the fun ended and the hard work began. You know, that delicate balance of a good disciplinarian, innate and rare?

"Next to music, Les was happiest traveling down new and unexplored roads of the state — or taking a canoe down through the Indian Reservation.

"He was hitting the high notes, as one happy fellow when he and Gladys (his wife) could spread a picnic lunch out under a tree and just listen to the music of countryside talk."

After graduation from Lawrence College in 1923, Mais went to teach commercial subjects in the Manitowoc High School. Soon he had revived interest in the first permanent school band, which had been started there in 1917. It celebrated its silver jubilee in 1942.

When the Lincoln High School Band in Manitowoc got underway, Mais started a grade school program so he could get his musicians started early.

In 1929 he came to Neenah High School to organize a 50-piece band. New instruments costing $500 were purchased by the city. At the same time he organized a band in the upper elementary grades to provide future talent.

It worked. The 1938 Rocket states, "The blare of the bugles and the beat of the drums announced the arrival of the NHS Senior Band in their new, snappy red and white uniforms, adding a great deal of color to school life."

That was the year of a major triumph for him, when the band came home from Stevens Point with first prize in marching and general maneuvering in competition with 28 other good bands.

Among the musicians were familiar names like Erdmann, Nickolas, Rosenow, Jape? Hansen, Radtke, Rabideau, Danke, Gore, Grunski, Tuchscherer, Redlin, Rausch, Roth, Dowling, Vanderwalker, Schanke, Ginnow, Krause, Haase.

Band Splits

The 1945 Rocket tells of another triumph. "The NHS Band, one of the most active and well-known organizations in HS, was divided into two bands, this year. George Dederiger directs the Pep Band."

Beneath a picture of Mais and his band, one reads: "Our musicians master their musical and special programs, as well as masterpieces" maneuvering the Rockets' field. Remember the names like Abendschein, Hildebrand, Rasmussen, Hase, low, Engel, Hefti, Alfertig, Burstein, Christoph, Lieber, lark and the Kimberly mills. It disbanded during the war when music making was curtailed in the community.

Back to Lawrence

During the war years Mais went back to Lawrence and directed a band of men stationed there under the V-12 Navy program. The Menasha Legion Band master, recalled.

"Did you ever see that blaze of begonia in his back yard? That's the kind of person he was — he always wanted to bring enjoyment to his friends and neighbors. He had promised that he would soon be joining organization at local functions many of us in the new and also made trips to entertain community band."

The sports organization called the Blukets also formed a band and played together from 1946 to 1948.

The K-C band played at the Blukets also formed a band and played together from 1946 to 1948.

The sports organization called the Blukets also formed a band and played together from 1946 to 1948.

How Many Remember the Kimberly-Clark Corp. band organized by Lester Mais and Clyde Smith in November 1938? It was an answer to the concern of Mais that Neenah High School band musicians had no organization in which to continue using their musical talents. Membership of the band came from these men and women who worked at Lakeview, Kimlark, Badger - Globe and the Kimberly mills. These smart new uniforms were donned in September 1939. The band played at the Kimberly-Clark picnics, safety programs, parades and countless local benefits. Many will recall how the band performed on that day in October, 1940 when the National Guard left from Neenah-Menasha.
